

Months of Active Service Along the Border for the National Guardsmen

Indications that the Troops will Have a Long Stay in the Field.

WASHINGTON, July 2.—While the diplomatic aspects of the Mexican difficulty showed no change tonight, War Department measures for a new distribution of the border patrol clearly indicated that months of active service along the frontier await the thousands of National Guardsmen gathering in the south from all parts of the country. Only the appointment of a general officer to supreme command is lacking now to complete adequate administrative machinery, not only for border operations, but for a campaign of any desired proportions in Mexico, should general hostilities come.

Under the new plan the 1800-mile frontier will be divided so that the Southern and Western military departments will take care of the eastern and western extremes of the line respectively. Maj.-Gen. Frederick Funston, relieved from responsibility for the entire border at his own recommendation, will continue in command of the Southern Department, while Maj.-Gen. J. Franklin Bell, commanding the Western Department, will transfer his headquarters from San Francisco to Douglas, Ariz., to be in direct touch with his share of the border work.

The midsection of the border line, embracing territory between El Paso and a point near Douglas and reaching northward to the Colorado State line, will be known hereafter as the Department of New Mexico. Under its jurisdiction will fall the expeditionary force of the Colorado State line, N. M., and Brig.-Gen. John J. Pershing, now commander of the expeditionary force, has been offered the post of department commander.

A message went to Gen. Pershing today asking if he desired to assume the duties of department chief in addition to those which now fall to him as commander in the field. The expedition is believed to have about completed the task of clearing the line, but it is thought that the most advanced patrols now are within 150 miles of the border.

No reply had been received from Gen. Pershing at a late hour tonight. It is possible that the difficulties in the way of combining command of the new department and of the expeditionary force under one head. In that case there are indications that he would be expected to relinquish command of the expedition and establish his headquarters at some point on the border where he could give personal attention to its needs and also supervise the disposition and training of the thousands of National Guardsmen soon to be added to the portion of the line within the new department. The War Department has suggested El Paso for department headquarters, but left the final choice to Gen. Pershing.

Line of communications greatly shortened, the general operations of the various regiments now beyond the line, probably could be directed more to direct command of the expedition.

FIRST FRUITS

OF THE "PUSH."

Resume of the Progress Made by the Allied Offensive.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

LONDON, July 2.—First fruits of the "push."

The Anglo-French offensive in Northern France, while only in its third day, already has achieved the following results:

Captured 10,000 Germans.

Reoccupied fifty square miles of territory.

The allies also have captured the following towns, whose approximate distance from the former battle line are shown:

Hobutene, one mile; Serre, two miles; Fricourt, one-half mile; Montauban, four miles; Hardecourt, five miles; Maricourt, five miles; Curia, five miles; Prise, five miles; Herlevillers, seven miles; Assevelers, seven miles; Pay, one mile; Estrees, one-half mile.

Submission of the dual-command proposal to Gen. Pershing, however, was viewed here as confirming the withdrawal of the expedition from Mexico. Final decision as to his command of the expedition was made by the War Department.

Secretary Lansing's demand that Gen. Pershing explain his recommendation to the War Department was met by a direct reply to Secretary Lansing's demand that Gen. Pershing explain his recommendation to the War Department.

It can be stated on the highest authority that Gen. Pershing's orders have not been changed in any respect, and that the expeditionary force will transfer his headquarters from San Francisco to Douglas, Ariz., to be in direct touch with his share of the border work.

The midsection of the border line, embracing territory between El Paso and a point near Douglas and reaching northward to the Colorado State line, will be known hereafter as the Department of New Mexico. ## AMERICAN DESERTER COMMANDED MEXICANS.

Secret Out Why They Fought with Such Vim at Carrizal.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

EL PASO, July 2.—One of the reasons why the Mexicans fought so well at Carrizal was a renegade American soldier. This came out today. He was a deserter from the Twelfth United States Infantry and was in command of a company of Mexicans during the battle. The killing of so many Mexican officers gave him an important command. When the captured negroes of the Tenth Cavalry got back to the front next Wednesday it will be the beginning of a blood feud on their part. They are going to get this traitor if it is a human possibility.

Trooper William Givens of the Tenth Cavalry says that he not only saw but talked to this renegade.

"I met him first," said Givens this afternoon, "at Columbus. I went back to Columbus from the front with some horses. I saw this fellow at that time at the base. During the battle we thought we saw an American among the Mexicans. They appeared to be in command of the company of Mexicans during the battle. ## MONEY BACK TO CHURCH DONORS

Company that Built Edifice Plans Dissolution.

Finance Methods Prevent Any Loss to Congregation.

Building Sold to County and is Now Memorial Hall.

Steps were taken yesterday to disband a remarkable Los Angeles organization, when the Dr. Thomson Church Company, which built the handsome Unitarian church on South Figueroa street, near Washington street, and sold the property for $20,000 to Los Angeles county for use as a memorial hall, filed a petition to dissolve the corporation.

The Dr. Thomson Church Company was formed eleven years ago by a number of members of the Unitarian Church who wished to have Dr. Thomson for their pastor. He was a prominent Canadian minister, very eloquent and a leader in church and Masonic circles. Those who wished him to become their pastor formed the Independent Church of Christ.

SAFEGUARD PLANNED.
Guided by troubles which had beset other churches, the people who financed the new institution formed a company and so provided that the property should remain in the hands of those who paid for it, and not belong to the denomination. In other words, in the event of the church ceasing to be able to maintain itself the property would be available for those who put up the funds to start it and carry it on.

Dr. Thomson, who for some time had preached in the Unitarian Church at Third and Hill streets, took over the pastorate, filled the pulpit for some time. The congregation was not very large, and found it a big undertaking to keep up the church. Dr. Thomson had to be paid a large salary, and there were the usual church expenses, so that it proved quite a burden. Finally Dr. Thomson's health failed, he went back to Canada, where he afterward died, and the members decided to give up the church.

PATRIOTIC HALL NOW.
The stockholders of the Dr. Thomson Church Company held the property a number of years until the county bought it, and it is now used as headquarters for the G. A. R. and other patriotic organizations, there being a clause in the charter which allows the county to have a hall for memorial purposes.

Those who provided the funds in the first place got their money back and also a small interest. The stock of the company was divided into 50,000 shares of which 15,544 were issued. At the stockholders' meeting, at which it was decided to dissolve the company, there were present twenty-two stockholders representing and voting 14,735 shares. It is stated that the debts and claims have been paid, and that the assets consist of cash on hand, $1523.51, and a $2000 contract with the county, on which $1000 has been paid. The balance is due the 17th day of next month.

The board of directors includes R. B. Williamson, Lyman Farwell, E. F. Fuller, W. B. Underhill, J. Owens, Mrs. Anna C. Vickers and Judge Philaxson.

ATHLETICS.
FUGITIVE IS FLEET.

Alfred Pickpocket, Nearing Sixty Years of Age, Disguises Police in Spectacular Chase, but Runs into Arms of a Ready Patrolman.

George Wolf, alleged veteran purse snatcher and expert pick, would have won fame on the cinder path had he chosen to devote his energies to foot racing instead of seeking to collect a living from the pockets of men and women.

Last evening, while fully 1600 people were seeking to entrain for the Pacific Electric beach, playing his game, Wolf appeared at the usual calling. He was successful for a time, as evidenced by the contents of his purse when later captured. He made a mistake, however, when he "kicked" the detective, who was Mendota. The intended victim felt the hand slide into his trousers pocket and reached for a pocket watch. Losing all interest in securing a comfortable seat in the crowded car, Mr. Mendota seized Wolf and called loudly for help.

Then it was that Wolf, who is near 60 years of age, demonstrated his sprinting ability. In relays he outran a special policeman, a detective and a deputy sheriff, as well as a score of others who joined in the chase. He was well out of danger from his pursuers when he ran into the arms of Patrolman Churchill.

"Here's the leather," Wolf exclaimed, thrusting the stolen pocket-book into the officer's hands. "You go that way and I'll go this."

The policeman, however, had different plans and arrested Wolf. The man has a police record for the same offense, the officers say.

Lieut. Alger of Fire Engine Company No. 22 was the first to be injured. He was standing in front of his engine-house when a bus passed, knocking him down.

Mrs. B. Hope, No. 225 North Grand avenue was struck by a bus at Eighth street and Broadway.

George Solomon of North Main street was run down as he played his home.

MALICE IN ARREST?

Piano Dealer, Exonerated of Charge of Passing False Check, Files Suit Asking Seventy-five Thousand Damages from Witness in Case.

W. H. Innis, a piano dealer of this city, filed suit yesterday against W. T. Soran and Bridget E. Soran for malicious prosecution and damages of $75,000. The suit was filed in the Superior court.

At the preliminary examination Mr. Innis was the man who bought the piano, and Judge Craig exonerated the defendant.

Mr. Innis was humiliated by his arrest and consequent newspaper notoriety. He says the arrest was without probable cause and brought him through Attorney Roger Marchetti. The Sorans declare a case of mistaken identity. The man who got the piano has not been apprehended nor has the automobile been recovered.

Truck Driver Formally Charged with Manslaughter when Victim of Road Smash-up Succumbs to Fracture of the Skull.

Benjamin Herndon, a chauffeur employed by the city, was charged yesterday with manslaughter, after Charles E. Lord, No. 4576 Pasadena avenue, had died at the County Hospital.

Mr. Lord was riding along Pasadena avenue on a truck owned by the Signal Film company when a truck driven by Herndon shot out from Avenue Twenty. The front wheel of the truck struck the rear wheel of the truck in which Mr. Lord was riding.

The shock of the collision dislodged Mr. Lord from his seat and he fell, striking on his head. He was unconscious when taken to the Receiving Hospital. An examination showed he had a fractured skull and internal injuries. He never recovered consciousness.

After the accident Herndon was arrested on a charge of having driven his automobile while intoxicated. When Mr. Lord died the charge was changed and a complaint was issued by the District Attorney's office.

Woman is Convicted of Conducting a Private Sanatorium Without a License and is Sentenced to Pay a Large Fine or Go to Jail.

Mrs. Olive Purcell was convicted in police court yesterday of conducting a private hospital without a license. She was sentenced by Judge White to pay a fine of $100 or go to jail for 30 days.

In the complaint it was alleged Mrs. Purcell took many patients to her home in Hollywood, and because of the expense of private hospitals offers opportunity for hospital surgical practices, the police are determined to exterminate them.

The prosecution of Mrs. Purcell will be followed by other raids in various parts of the city, as the police believe they have a complete list of all "shadow hospitals," as they are called.

Hamilton's will, after bequeathing various sums to his thirty relatives, gives the residue of his $1,000,000 estate to the church for religious and educational work. Among the beneficiaries is Archbishop John J. Walsh of Dublin.

Patrick's Parochial School of Butte and the Parochial School of St. Lawrence, Waterville, also receive legacies.

TRAINING CAMP AWAITS PUPILS.

All in Readiness at Monterey for Citizen Soldiers.

Local Recruits Leave Sunday by Train and Motor.

Largest Contingent of State from this City.

Final arrangements for the transportation of 750 recruits from this city and Pasadena to the Monterey Encampment, which will open next Monday and continue until August 5, were completed yesterday at the office of the Civil Control committee, in room 410, Mortgage Guarantee Building. More than 500 men will leave for the camp at 7 o'clock Sunday morning, over the Southern Pacific, and others will go by motor truck and automobile. The train will arrive at the camp at 6:30 o'clock Sunday evening.

The aviation corps, under the command of Capt. Gad Morgan, U.S.A.; Lieut. H. Lett, U.S.A.; and Earle Remington, president of the California Aeronautical Society, will leave in motor trucks Saturday afternoon, with their equipment and two aeroplanes. There are sixty men in the local aviation corps.

Between 500 and 600 recruits have passed the physical examinations conducted by the city by Lieut. George H. Richardson of the United States Army Medical Reserve Corps, Dr. E. Allen and Dr. Howard L. Moffet. Others will be examined Saturday morning in room 1012, Brocade Building.

In a dispatch received at the committee's headquarters yesterday, it was stated that the preliminary plans at the camp have been completed and the tents erected. Two of the most artillery battalions, the Thirty-first and Seventy-fifth regiments will arrive at the camp this week from San Francisco.

The local leaders of the Civil Control committee, which were opened in April and under the direction of Lieut. H. Lett, Dr. E. Allen, Gurney Nevill, Dr. Edwin Janse, Warren Rowland and W. P. Kelly, will be closed Friday.

FULL BRIGADE IN CAMP.
There will be two complete regiments of recruits and one complete regiment of regulars at the camp making a full war strength brigade.

The average age of the recruits is about 22 years. James H. McCreedy, 62 years of age, is the oldest man enrolled for active service. Hamilton McCay, 18 years of age, of Pasadena, is the youngest recruit.

McCreedy obtained a special permission from the War Department to enroll.

PROMINENT MEN GOING.
Marion A. Goddard, John C. McFarland, B. H. Dyer and Donald O'Melveny will be in charge of the troop train that leaves Los Angeles Sunday.

The following are among some of the well-known men who enrolled in the training camp: James B. Scherer, president of Throop College; William H. Booth, Harold Cook, Edward C. Debevoise, Charles H. Lockwood, Everett B. Perry, Rev. George Davidson and Lloyd R. Macy.

The expenses of each man, including transportation, from the time he leaves until he reaches home will be about $52. In a large number of cases the more wealthy recruits have volunteered to pay the expenses of other men who enrolled in this city. The government will furnish uniforms, sweaters and the equipment. Each man will be required to bring his own bathing suit and toilet articles.

TO TRAIN FOR SERVICE.
In a bulletin issued by the Western Department of the United States Army, it is stated that the purpose of the camp is to help properly qualified men to fill the great deficiency in commissioned officers that immediately arise in case of a national emergency by giving them four weeks of intensive military instruction in the field under regular officers and with troops of the regular army.

Applicants must be citizens of the United States, of sound body and mind, and capable of the severe physical work of drill and marching. The qualifications, however, are not so strict as in the regular army. It is strongly recommended that the typhoid prophylaxis be taken at the camp, or before, if possible. No charge for this treatment will be made at the camp or at any garbaged post in the Western Department.

The purpose of the instruction, which will be given by the regular army officers, is to give each recruit a definite course of instruction in the camp, and a certain amount of practical instruction in the principles of tactics, including drill, personal hygiene, and military map making and road sketching will be given for practical work in that subject.

The proper handling and use of the rifle, by actual firing with the service rifle and ammunition on the target range, will be given.

Physical drill, marching, camping, tent pitching, making and breaking camp, signaling, and personal hygiene, field cooking, camp sanitation, first aid to the wounded, and the care of troops in the field, will be taught by practice.

The proper organization of the military forces of the United States, the reasons therefor, and comparative military history, and the supply (food and material) of an army and the problems connected therewith, the psychology of war, the military history of our country, not the illuminated school-book version of our victories merely, but the true versions, as taken from the official records, of our failures and successes, as well as our successes and failures, with reasons therefor; our military policy, past and present; the necessity for some sound, definite military policy and the adoption thereof, and the present scheme of organization of the land forces of the United States.

There will be a practice march of several days' duration, in which, as nearly as possible, such actual campaign conditions of march, bivouac and combat as the assumed conditions would exact, will be followed.

The proper organization of the military forces of the United States, the reasons therefor, and comparative military history, and the supply (food and material) of an army and the problems connected therewith, the psychology of war, the military history of our country, not the illuminated school-book version of our victories merely, but the true versions, as taken from the official records, of our failures and successes, as well as our successes and failures, with reasons therefor; our military policy, past and present; the necessity for some sound, definite military policy and the adoption thereof, and the present scheme of organization of the land forces of the United States.

There will be a practice march of several days' duration, in which, as nearly as possible, such actual campaign conditions of march, bivouac and combat as the assumed conditions would exact, will be followed.

TREND OF THE FINANCIAL NEWS.
 CHIEF EVENTS OF YESTERDAY.
 (At Home.)—Reports received in Wall street of the early withdrawal of troops from Mexico put stocks at the highest level of the day, in the last hour of the exchange session. The closing was firm. Although war issues again were under pressure, favorable developments over the week-end afforded the market an improved tone. Yesterday was a holiday on the metal exchange, with no London quotations.

(Abroad.)—Provisional credits to cover the period up to December 31 were approved almost unanimously by the Italian Chamber of Deputies.

PRIME NECESSITY.
 Statistics for the fiscal year just ended show that prosperity is returning to Los Angeles and Southern California generally. But still the fact remains that the taxes must be decreased. City and county officials must not overlook that.

AFTER, NOT BEFORE.
 "When we get down there our guns will speak for us," said Col. Schreiber of the Seventh Regiment at Sacramento the other day. An admirable and soldierly sentiment, reminding one of what a great king of Israel said: "Let not him that girdeth on his harness boast himself as he that putteth it off." Good for Schreiber! He will be heard from.

"FIGHTING" NO, NOT YET.
 Not the "Fighting Seventh" as yet.
 "The Silent Seventh," that is better. Somebody was in too much of a hurry to characterize the Seventh Regiment, vigorous and brave organization though it be, as a command of fighters before the men had done any fighting. But "The Silent Seventh," that name is happy in its significance. It speaks of a body of men given to doing their duty without complaint or valgory.

SPANK A BAD BOY.
 The President said to a newspaper correspondent: "I regard the Mexican government in much the same light as a parent regards an unruly child. In the case of the child the only desire of the parent is that it should mend its ways; there is no intention to destroy it."
 But a wise father takes an unruly child to the woodshed and with a cedar shingle administers stern punishment to him. Woodrow would shed light on the Mexican situation if he would do likewise with Carranza.

PROPOSED SETTLEMENT OF THE IRISH QUESTION.
 Chancellor Lloyd George proposes to settle the Irish question by establishing a Parliament in Dublin with jurisdiction over all Ireland, except the counties of Antrim, Armagh, Down, Londonderry, Fermanagh and the county boroughs of Londonderry and Belfast. This would give Home Rule to the O's and English rule to the Macs, and ought to be satisfactory both to Presbyterian Belfast and Catholic Dublin.
 The "bloody far downers" could wave the green flag embroidered with the harp that once through Tara's halls, and the "unco guid" in the north could take for their banner the cross of St. George couchant with a box of oranges rampant.

TAXES IN DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.
 The question of taxation in the District of Columbia is being considered by Congress from different viewpoints. It has been the custom for the District to pay one-half and the United States pay one-half of the expenses of local government, including paving, sewerage and lighting the city.
 The owners of property in the District now claim that as Washington has but 400,000 inhabitants while the United States has 100,000,000, Washington should pay $4000 against $1,000,000 paid by the United States.
 A Mississippian characterizes this claim as an instance of total mathematical depravity resulting from a mesalliance between the multiplication table and an ass, and suggests as a substitute that Congress tax the citizens of Washington all they can stand, and that the amount necessary to conduct the local government after the local taxpayers are exhausted be appropriated from the Federal treasury.

VERY CHANGEABLE.
 It has been only two or three days since President Wilson made a militant speech saying, "I am in a fighting mood." Crowing by the shores of the Atlantic, Jefferson and the long-haired symbol of his party that the world in all its four corners should respect the United States or have a fight.
 Bah! And now he veers from ridiculous jingoism to the most truckling of attitudes toward the bandits south of the Rio Grande.
 Carranza seems to have bluffed the note-writers of the White House. It is really too bad that Mr. Wilson can't hire someone to make up his mind for him so that he could at least appear consistent for a month at a time instead of bobbing around, being today for preparedness, the next day saying we are adequately prepared; talking of "fearless acquiescence," and then writing a note urging Germany to yield a technical point of the controversy. May the next few months pass hastily and bring November and Hughes!

ENTHUSIASM FIRST.
 Many are the slogans, the watchwords,
 the rallying calls to stir the American nation to a sense of its needs, its best ideals, its mighty responsibilities. Safety first,
 preparedness first, civic duty, justice first,
 humanity first; to all these cries as the occasion demands the American people is taught to answer and is ready to answer to the teaching.

But as once more the sun dawns on another anniversary of freedom's birthday, only one sentiment should be uppermost in American hearts. For this one glorious stretch of twenty-four hours is dedicated to nationalism, to patriotism, to Americanism in its only acceptable form, straight, strong, pure and unadulterated; and in response this celebration of celebrations should be saturated with enthusiasm, unrestrained,
 emotional, not overprudent, untempered
 by care or caution, measureless, immoderate enthusiasm.

Lest we forget to make the day sufficient unto the glory thereof.

Proud, why should we not be proud?
 Nohay, a little bolsterous, surrendering ourselves for this one day to the charge of "spread eagles," why not? We can be more sober, more serious, can take our patriotism with a soupcon of practicality for the other 364 days in the year. We can pay more attention to duty and hard facts,
 we can criticize the nation for its omissions;
 we can be vigilant to patch up the weak spots in our defenses.

But not on the Fourth. On the Fourth we will be schoolboys out on vacation, we will trumpet in the full moon, we will make the psalm a psalm of triumphing, we will show to the world that the pursuit of happiness was not bequeathed to us in vain.

Not in vain on this day of days shall Old Glory flutter from the roofs of millions of enthusiastic, loyal, all-in-all Americans; not in vain shall we chorus the praises of our country; not in vain shall we throw ourselves heartily into unrestrained merry-making, holiday keeping, noise, crowds and celebrations.

For as the stars come out in the midnight sky and another Fourth passes away to join the ghosts of the days that are no more,
 every American will return to the duties and responsibilities of his life, his city and his country filled with a deeper sense of what that home and city and country stand for, in a spirit accentuated by this one day given over to the enthusiasm of unbridled patriotic sentiments.

CAPITAL AND LABOR IN THESE UNITED STATES.
 Capital is not the foe of labor, all the yappings of Sam Gompers, the millionaire labor misleader, and all the soap-box orratory of Job Harriman, whose soft, white hands would blister at the touch of a hammer handle, to the contrary notwithstanding.
 The intelligent laborers who decline to join a union controlled by grafting labor leaders know very well that, while the wealth owners may to some extent influence the making of laws, they cannot become tyrants to individuals. They know that government is not a probate court to act as a spendthrift guardian for fools and weaklings. They know that ours is a republic where the race must be to the swift and the battle to the strong; a republic
 where equality of opportunity is guaranteed,
 but equality of result will not be enforced.
 The millionaire may buy the votes of legislators, but he cannot outvote the pauper from his place in the polls, or the re-barber shop, or force any man to take off his hat, or deprive the driver of a spavined horse of his right of way. The combined capitalists of Wall street could not force an hour's work out of a tramp who preferred to lie upon the grass.

Our government says to the worker:
 "The land is yours free to cultivate, the waters are yours free to appropriate; the forests are yours free to hew; the mines are yours free to locate—and yours is the right to work or remain idle as you choose.
 No capitalist shall invade your rights, neither shall you invade his. He shall not dictate to you for whom you shall work and you shall not dictate to him whom he shall employ. Rockefeller shall not take from you one hour's toil except he pays you for it, and you shall not take one dollar from his thousand millions unless he pays or gives it to you. Let Morgan accumulate so long as he can do so lawfully. There will be no pockets in his shirt. He cannot take a dollar with him when he goes.

"And all he can hold in his cold, dead hand will be wadded by his ghost." We live in an age of light. We live in an advancing generation, and the retrogressive, whining, wealth-hating, labor-shirking doctrines of Gompers and Debs and Twitmore and McCarthy and Job Harriman and their assistant anarchists are out of joint with the times and out of place in this land.
 Everywhere invention, discovery and science are pushing their mighty march up the mountains, along the valleys and into the caverns of the earth. They are riding in great ships over the foam-crested seas.
 They are climbing in airplanes into the clouds. Will the intelligent, fair-minded, honest workers of the land so belittle their own manhood as to submit to the rule of labor grafters and assassinating anarchists?

The honest workers of the land have not so much to fear from the millionaires of America as from the banded brotherhoods of beer and brawling who beat the air with curses of the millionaires. Neither in their origin nor in their use are the vast fortunes of America really offensive. The great wealth of the ancients was the result of plunder, not production. The laws of the Caesars punished a Roman citizen who became a trader, and condemned to death a Senator who established a manufactory. So late as seven centuries ago all wealth was in landed estates, and savings banks were unknown. Caste ruled the world, and even in this republic it ruled to some extent until slavery went down in the stormy shock of battle.

Bryan's catchphrase phrase that "the con-
 dollar" is but the moulting of a denarius who takes precious good care to grab every dollar that he can bring within reach of his avaricious clutch. So far as there is any contest, it is a contest between the man who is too ignorant or too dishonest to earn a dollar, or too imprudent to invest one, and the industrious man who has saved his dollar, in which contest the dol-larless man is endeavoring to get the other man's dollar away from him without giving him anything for it. It is a contest between the man with a job and the man who is afraid he will find a job; between the bread-winner and the tramp; between the man who can write and the man who signs his name with a cross; between the de-positors in the savings banks and the de-positors in the deadfalls.

What do rich men obtain from life more than poor men? Toil brings hunger and hunger is a better sauce than any served at the clubs. God gives his beloved as sweet sleep as a cot as upon the downiest couch. Public libraries and galleries accord the treasures of learning and art to the poorest. Music and the drama can be enjoyed as well from the galleries as from the boxes. A trolley car gives a smoother and safer ride than a taxicab or a carriage drawn by horses. There are no reserved seats in nature's amphitheater. The pluck of the waters, the verdure of the lawns, the shade of the trees and the perfume of the flowers belong to rich and poor alike.

The day-laborer can watch the burning sun dissolve in frework clouds of color that fill the earth and air with glory, and see the gray lids of twilight fall upon the drowsy eyes of the sapphire sea, and watch the stars come out, and see the darkening dome of earth's temple lit with their gleam.
 God gives such visions of beauty alike to capitalist and pauper, and the poorest laborer equally with the multi-millionaire can find heaven in the prattle of his babies and the arms of the woman he loves.

THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY AND JAPAN.
 It wouldn't be surprising to see Japan subsidizing the Democratic party in the coming Presidential campaign. Japan has subsidized about everything connected with her industries, and the best asset she has at present is her free-trade Democracy. The Democrats have presented our home market to Japan and then scuttled the American shipping business on the Pacific in her favor.

Japan unloaded $102,000,000 worth of her cheap-labor goods on our market in the nine months' period ended March, 1916, an increase of 36 per cent over the corresponding period ended March, 1915, which was bad enough under the Democratic tariff law. During the nine months ended March, 1914, six months under the Democratic tariff law, Japan sent us $83,000,000 worth of her goods. That came into our ports in Japanese vessels $42,000,000 worth, or about 50 per cent. But our Pacific Coast ship owners were doing too good a business to escape the Democratic blunderbuss, so it (with the help of La Follette, Furuseth and Gompers) passed a shipping law which sent our west-coast ships to other waters and Japan proceeded to monopolize (and still monopolizes) Pacific cargo-carrying. During the period ended March, 1916, practically every dollar's worth of goods sent to us by Japan was brought to our shores in Japanese bottoms, plus many millions of dollars' worth picked up on lanes of travel no longer covered by American vessels. Japan is dictating the terms on which we shall ship. She has raised the freight rates on American wares and she is playing the "Japan first" game. Meanwhile, a fatally inefficient Democracy holds in its palsied hands the destiny and present well-being of this nation.

 FORTY YEARS AGO.
 BY TOM FITCH.
 "The century shrivels like a scroll,
 The past becomes the present
 And face to face and soul to soul"
 we behold the fathers of our country
 gathered around Liberty's altar.
 Thomas Jefferson, foreman of the grand jury that indicted a king!
 John Adams, the Boston lawyer,
 cool, patient and determined; Samuel Adams, the Boston merchant,
 with a passionate and determined
 spirit that was eagle-winged in its
 searching for the uppermost other
 of liberty; Benjamin Franklin, diplomat, philanthropist, humanitarian
 and patriot; the Virginia Lees, descendants of plumed cavaliers;
 Sherman and Trumbull, descendants
 from Cromwell's Ironsides; Philip
 Livingston, descended from the grim
 Dutchmen who opened the dykes
 and their lands to the ocean
 rather than surrender their liberties
 and Robert Morris, who tossed his
 wealth into the vortex of the revolution as lightly as a feather, leaving to his mistress the hard work of the tourney.

These men were by impulse and
 by habit of thought lovers of liberty
 and haters of kings, and George the Third had by his course gained their especial animosity. The Declaration of Independence which they framed
 is a knitted chain of logic and a persuasive and passionate appeal. Even at this day its sentences stir the blood like the blast of trumpets. It proves the government of George III to have been the most unconscionable of tyrannies. It states the case of the colonists with the force
 of a demonstration in mathematics,
 and with the poetic beauty of a song
 of David. Its diction is as faultless as its spirit is high. It is the most powerful and the most eloquent state document in the archives of
 history.

When Thomas Jefferson said that
 "all men are created equal" he gathered the advanced thought of the
 century into a sentence, which, cen-
 tured by the passion of revolution,
 he hurled into the faces of
 the monarchs of the world. He said
 Almighty God that freedom and justice should henceforth go hand in hand in America.

 FORTY YEARS AGO.
 BY TOM FITCH.

"The century shrivels like a scroll,
 The past becomes the present
 And face to face and soul to soul"
 we behold the fathers of our country
 gathered around Liberty's altar.
 Thomas Jefferson, foreman of the
 grand jury that indicted a king!
 John Adams, the Boston lawyer,
 cool, patient and determined; Samuel Adams, the Boston merchant,
 with a passionate and determined
 spirit that was eagle-winged in its
 searching for the uppermost other
 of liberty; Benjamin Franklin, diplomat, philanthropist, humanitarian
 and patriot; the Virginia Lees, descendants of plumed cavaliers;
 Sherman and Trumbull, descendants
 from Cromwell's Ironsides; Philip
 Livingston, descended from the grim
 Dutchmen who opened the dykes
 and their lands to the ocean
 rather than surrender their liberties
 and Robert Morris, who tossed his
 wealth into the vortex of the revolution as lightly as a feather, leaving to his mistress the hard
 work of the tourney.

These men were by impulse and
 by habit of thought lovers of liberty
 and haters of kings, and George the Third had by his course gained their
 especial animosity. The Declaration of Independence which they framed
 is a knitted chain of logic and a persuasive and passionate appeal. Even
 at this day its sentences stir the
 blood like the blast of trumpets. It
 proves the government of George
 III to have been the most unconscionable of tyrannies. It states the
 case of the colonists with the force
 of a demonstration in mathematics,
 and with the poetic beauty of a song
 of David. Its diction is as faultless
 as its spirit is high. It is the most powerful and the most eloquent
 state document in the archives of
 history.

When Thomas Jefferson said that
 "all men are created equal" he gathered the advanced thought of the
 century into a sentence, which, cen-
 tured by the passion of revolution,
 he hurled into the faces of
 the monarchs of the world. He said
 Almighty God that freedom and justice should henceforth go hand in
 hand in America.

All great movements recorded in history have been the offspring of singleness of purpose. All great reforms have been accomplished by enthusiasts who refused to accept compromise or submit to abatement of their demands. It was fortunate indeed for their descendants, it was fortunate for the world that the controlling spirits of the revolution were men whose clear visions pierced the mist of uncertainty, whose brave hearts defied the apparent odds against them, and whose wise and burning words uplifted the purposes and aroused the enthusiasm of a race.

It was Jefferson's mission to inaugurate a revolution, to inspire a people, to uphold the equality of mankind, to agitate for reforms, and aid in securing the fruits of victory the field of battle to guide the movements of armies. He left the conflicts of war to those gifted with military genius while he assumed the duty of imparting an anti-monarchical direction to the new government which he foresaw must issue from the war.

Thomas Jefferson, the political philosopher, George Washington, the soldier and John Adams, the statesman and diplomat constitute the illustrous triumvirate of American revolutionary history and without the work of each the others might not have succeeded in creating,
 guiding and establishing the new nation.

The military services of George Washington were pronounced by Frederick the Great to be "the most brilliant achievements recorded in military annals," and that monarch called Washington his royal portrait bearing the inscription: "From the oldest general in Europe to the greatest general in the world."

The sooner we Americans realize that no people is entitled to national existence unless they are strong enough to defend themselves, the sooner we shall safeguard the precious heritage handed down to us by those who were willing to make every sacrifice to defend their lives, their families, their property and their honor.

RIPLING RHYMES.
ADAM'S OFF OX.
 The world is old, and man still talks at times of Adam's starboard
 ox. When any man's profoundly dead, of him it's usually said that he's as dead as Adam's ox. And if a strange man's name, and you are asked who he may be, you say, "I give it up, old ox; I know him not from Adam's ox." You say the "off ox" all the time, but that won't fit into this rhyme. Oh, famous beast, immortal ox, whose shade still on this footstool walks! No other brute, since time began, no mouse or mule or mole or man, thus efforless has won renown, a fame the ages cannot drown! How did you play your bovine game, that you have earned this durable fame?
 We hear no word of Adam's hog,
 of Adam's mule, of Adam's dog; we no description of his stove, or of the motor car he drove, or of his watch on Sunday hat, or his imported Mattress cat, but his off ox has come to stay; we hear it quoted every day.

 "Carriages without horses shall go.
 Accidents fill the world with woe.
 Around the earth thoughts shall fly
 In the twinkling of an eye.
 This world upside down shall be,
 And gold be found at the root of a tree.
 Through hills man shall ride
 And no horse be at his side.
 Under water man shall walk,
 Shall ride, shall sleep, shall talk.
 In the air man shall be seen,
 In black, in white, in green."

PART III.

XVTH YEAR.

HALF OF BUNDY-McLOUGHLIN COMBINATION SURE TO WIN TENNIS TITLE.

M'LOUGHLIN AND DAWSON WADE THROUGH TENNIS BATTLE OVER THE FAST WAYNE-BROWNE DUO.

BY WILLIAM M. HENRY.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

HOTEL VIRGINIA, LONG BEACH, July 3.—For the first time in a good many years the team which will represent the Pacific Coast in the international doubles tournament will be a strictly Southern California pair.

HALF THERE, SURE. Not only that, but it now is a certainty that half of the Bundy-McLoughlin team, which for several years held the national doubles title, will compete in the big international match.

Yesterday Maury McLoughlin and Ward Dawson waded through a closely-contested match into the final round over the pasting bodies of Nat Browne and Claude Wayne. The score of the contest was 6-3, 4-6, 6-2, 3-6, 6-4, in favor of the youngsters.

GOOD AT THAT. The match was not the most exciting in the world, as both teams were playing entirely too safe to take the chances which make for thrills and applause. Lobbing was strictly the thing and the ball was up among the clouds a large part of the time.

To Ward Dawson must go the larger part of the credit for the victory, simply because he was the target at which Browne and Wayne aimed their shots and he handled everything they could aim at him, improving as the game went on.

LITTLE IN SIGHT. McLoughlin was very little in evidence until the latter part of the game, partly because Browne and Wayne were avoiding him and partly because he was playing safe. There was none of the McLoughlin dash in the pop lobs Maury was hitting. He was afraid to take a chance. The last set of the match was more than interesting and at one time it looked as though McLoughlin and Dawson were lost. Wayne won the opening game of the last set on his service and Maury took the second on his service, likewise. Nat Browne then won his game after a terrific game in which eighteen points were played. The fourth game went to deuce twice and Browne and Wayne finally broke through Dawson's service and put the score at 3-1 in their favor.

CAME BACK. Here, however, McLoughlin and Dawson came back. Dawson especially doing fine work. Wayne's service was taken by the youngsters and McLoughlin supplied a love game on his service, bringing the score to three games all.

Browne and Wayne made their last stand on Browne's service and after the game had gone to deuce four times, they won it, but right there they quit. Dawson and McLoughlin opened up and won Dawson's and Wayne's services at love and ended up on McLoughlin's with one lone point for Browne and Wayne.

MORNING GLORIES WIN ONCE MORE. [SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.] LONG BEACH, July 3.—The Morning Glory tennis team, composed of Weller and Henry of the morning papers, disposed of the Twilight Squirts, represented by Cohn and Napier, in four straight sets, 6-0, 6-4, 11-5, 6-3. The last set was played merely to allay any suspicion that the Glories were fading at the end of the third set, which concluded the match.

The final round of the men's doubles and the concluding matches of the invitation women's doubles will be played Tuesday in addition to several interesting matches of singles and mixed doubles which have been arranged.

through Dawson's service and put the score at 3-1 in their favor.

CAME BACK. Here, however, McLoughlin and Dawson came back. Dawson especially doing fine work. Wayne's service was taken by the youngsters and McLoughlin supplied a love game on his service, bringing the score to three games all.

Browne and Wayne made their last stand on Browne's service and after the game had gone to deuce four times, they won it, but right there they quit. Dawson and McLoughlin opened up and won Dawson's and Wayne's services at love and ended up on McLoughlin's with one lone point for Browne and Wayne.

SPEEDY. The other semi-final match found Bundy and Herd going through Roberts and Detrick of San Francisco so fast that the match seemed to be finished almost before the crowd had settled in their seats. Bundy and Herd won 6-0, 6-1, 6-0 and there was no one to say that the winning team was not the best looking aggregation on the courts.

RAH FOR 'EM. Bundy was his old steady self, always getting the opposition out of position by cross-court shots while Herd displayed a brand of tennis which was a distinct surprise. Herd served seven games, won three of them at love, in two others allowed his opponents only one point and in the course of the afternoon served only one double fault.

Bundy's work was of course the deciding factor of the match. He played the way he used to play with McLoughlin when they were playing at the top of their game and after two or three volleys it was always easy for either Tom or Cliff to slam over a clean ace, due to Bundy's accurate methods of getting his opponents out of position.

DOPE. On the strength of the showings of the two winning teams in the semi-final round, Bundy and Herd should be the favorites to win the final round, which will be a wonderful match with the chances even, otherwise Herd and Bundy's attack will beat the defensive tactics which seem so strange from McLoughlin and Dawson.

In the other matches of the day, in the women's round robin tournament Miss Tennant and Mrs. Henry beat Miss McCannell and Miss Grieve and thirteen lost. Miss Sutton and Miss Browne however, with fifteen games won and nine lost, have a higher percentage than the leaders. Mrs. Bruce and Mrs. Bourne are also one game behind Miss Tennant and Miss Browne.

EXHIBITION. In an exhibition match of men's doubles following the last semi-final match, Griffin and Roberts defeated Herd and Bundy 8-6, the same score by which they defeated Bundy and McLoughlin Saturday afternoon.

Miss Tennant and Mrs. Henry defeated Miss Grieve and Miss Lowell, 7 to 1. Miss McCannell and Miss Hasselo defeated Mrs. Widdowson and Miss McCall, 5 to 3. Miss Tennant and Mrs. Henry defeated Miss McCannell and Miss Hasselo, 5 to 3. Miss Bruce and Mrs. Bourne tied Miss Sutton and Miss Browne, 4 to 4. Mrs. Bruce and Mrs. Bourne defeated Mrs. Elliott and Miss Burnham, 5 to 3.

TIGERS AFTER OAKLAND BUNCH

Ham's Pets Expect to Make Hay While Sun Shines.

Higginsbom up Against a Serious Proposition.

Double-header on the List for this Afternoon.

The Oakland team arrived yesterday for its double-header today with the Tigers. One game will be played at 1:30, the other in the afternoon.

Some of the fans were laying wagers that a bunch would go out to Verano in the morning, expecting to be the game there. They were also laying to wager even money that the team would not be back in time to see the afternoon game.

CRITICAL DAY. Today is a critical one in the life of the Tigers. They have been playing for a long time and have been losing a lot of games. They are now in a critical position and must win today to stay in the race.

It is true we haven't been winning many games, but we have lost a lot of games. The luck is bound to change and then the other clubs will not stand those kind of odds.

CUES AND CURLICUES.

NEWS NOTES AND GOSSIP OF THE SHOW WORLD.

By Grace Kingsley.

The Majestic Theater will probably be the home of the new Cort-Morris vaudeville circuit in this city, though no definite arrangements have yet been made.

Ghost Just as Funny.

Ben Linn, now singing at the Orpheum, will begin work for the L-Ko Film Company next week.

Canaries Ate Chicken.

Members of the "Canary Cottage" company were guests yesterday of Charles E. De Lora, manager of Sea Gull Inn, Redondo, where they were regaled with a chicken dinner, it being a case of "bird eat bird." O. B. Henderson, general manager of the Pacific Kisel Kar Company provided nine cars for the transportation of the company. The guests included Trilix Frigana, Herbert Cortell, Charles Buggies, Grace Ellsworth, Louise Orth, Eddie Cantor, Eunice Burnham and others.

Patriotic Note.

The actors of Oliver Morosco's three attractions, "Canary Cottage," "Mary," and "Upstairs and Down," will all celebrate the glorious Fourth in grand style tonight at the Orpheum, every member of the three companies will participate in an extra matinee performance.

Empress Reopening.

The Empress Theater will reopen today under new management, a deal having been consummated yesterday whereby Claude E. Halsei, well-known photographer, impresario, who already controls the Lyceum and Grand Theaters, takes over the lease from J. J. Quintana, who is the owner of the building. The new management buying its attractions in the open market.

Trains Girls to Fight.

Flora MacDonald, who plays the wife of the heroic Italian immigrant in "The Fall of a Nation," Thomas Dixon's preparedness spectacle, showing at Glendale Auditorium, has offered to join a camp in New Jersey where a battalion of society girls are wearing khaki and developing a national spirit. Miss MacDonald worked for months under the direction of a retired army officer, and believes that she could give the girls valuable assistance in their worthy aim.

Work for Their Country.

The acts at the Hippodrome today will celebrate the Fourth by rambling through five shows, if not more, as the performances will be continuous.

Own Folks Disown.

Jessie Hayward, who comes to the Hippodrome in her own sketch, "The Quilter," holds a record of never having failed to make a hit, excepting, she explains, in her own home town, where, because she played a chambermaid, wore a dress that had been better days in the "slant," the "folks" opined "she hadn't done very well."

Clinical Note.

Miss Collins, one of Pavlova's charming dancers, had the misfortune to break a toe on her right foot at the performance Friday night. The accident occurred as she left the stage, and Miss Pavlova, as a result, was forced to perform several extra numbers.

Tabloid Red Widow.

Tabloid version of "The Red Widow" for use in vaudeville, by Sophie Bernard, is being made by Channing Pollock, Broadway writer. Miss Bernard will play her original role in the production. Lou Anger will be in the cast.

Busy Nellie.

Nellie V. Nichols has compiled an entirely new act since her last tour. She has a series of new songs and also a new Italian characterization in which she is seen as the wife of an Italian "band boss" who, afflicted with the "bends," as a result of his work under air pressure, is returning to his native country.

Kenneth Likes Variety.

Kenneth Davenport, who has been appearing in pictures for the Biograph here, has gone back to New York, where he has just finished fabricating a vaudeville sketch he will use next year. Lola Fisher was to have been his partner, but instead is to assume a leading role in the new Hutton play, "The Squab Farm."

Greek Gods Become Films.

And now the Greek classics are to have a whack at the motion picture, or rather, vice versa. The United Sales Corporation of New York is producing a series of feature films based on Greek mythology. "Diana" was the first one, and was as successful as to encourage the company to put on similar features. "Theseus" and others are to be produced.

New Idea.

A new dramatic company is being formed in New York, to produce plays in what is to be known as a "community" theater, based on the plan of the Lessee Theater in Berlin. Hilda Englund, a well-known actress, is to have leading roles.

Jockey With Universal.

James Buchanan, known as "the globe-trotting jockey," who has been around the world a number of times and has piloted well-known racing horses to success in Germany, France, Austria, Italy and Ireland, as well as in this country, is to appear in a forthcoming Universal picture directed by Phillips Smalley—also in one directed by Allen Curtis.

Julian's New One.

Elaborate preparations are being made by Director Rupert Julian for the filming of "The Clotie of Gold," which will feature Elsie Jane Wilson. The supporting cast includes Douglas Gerard, Francis Huntington and Robert Hensley.

Beave Wilbur.

Beave Wilbur is writing the next photoplay in which he will star for the Horsey company. Its locale is on the Mexican border.

No "Prop" Heroes.

Seven actors, familiar figures in David Horsey productions, have Celebrating the Fourth in advance.

A bunch of happy uncaged "canaries," who yesterday afternoon left their usual haunt, the Mason Opera-house, and flitted down to Seagull Inn at Redondo Beach to enjoy a chicken dinner. The entire "Canary Cottage" company was entertained at the inn, whither they were conveyed in autos furnished by the KiselKar Company.

BICYCLE-DAY PROGRAMME INCLUDES CLASSY STUNTS.

LOS ANGELES is to have a round-up of bicycles July 22 that will rival anything of the kind ever held in the country.

Bicycle day is to be celebrated with all the eclat of a sheep-herders' convention in Montana or a class reunion at a Keely Institute.

The bicycle day programme has spread out all over the bike boards. Young and old have responded to the call of the bike and all hands are to be in on the doings.

The complete list of events is to be announced today by George Cline, chairman of the Contest Committee. There is to be a relay race, in which teams representing the large tire concerns of the city, will compete.

Each rider in this event must be a bona fide employee of the company which he represents.

Suburban towns have taken up the bicycle sport and many of the Southern California cities are to be represented July 22.

There is to be a relay race between teams representing the Western Union, Postal and Federal messenger forces. There are to be match races between old-time rivals of the professional class and bike riders who used to take honors in the amateur class are scheduled to appear in the parade and racing numbers.

There are to be several races for novices. There are to be events for juveniles and a great handicap match.

An event which promises to be a feature of bicycle day is the race for high wheelers only. There are several old-timers with their high wheelers entered already and more are promised.

OARSMEN READY TO RACE IN SECTIONAL REGATTAS.

PHILADELPHIA, June 27.—With the passing of the annual inter-collegiate regatta rowing devotees will now turn their attention to the annual National Association of Amateur Oarsmen events, in which an army of club oarsmen, to which has been added an occasional college crewman, has been added in preparation for the sectional regattas to be rowed in the North, East, South and West, leading up to this year's annual championships of the National Association to be rowed over the mile and a quarter straightaway course in Duluth Harbor on Friday and Saturday, August 11 and 12.

The club rowing season began with the American Regatta races in April last, which were succeeded in rapid order by the New York Rowing Association regatta on Memorial Day. Last week the Southern Rowing Association rowed their first events at Richmond and New Orleans, and other centers, including Buffalo, St. Louis and in fact all the prominent places where the sport of handling the sculls and sweeps is popular have had preliminary races which have in a measure determined which are the foremost of the rowing men.

The final big fixtures will be rowed on July 4, the People's Regatta at Philadelphia over a mile and a quarter course being one of the principal tests in the East as to the ability of the oarsmen to demonstrate why they should be sent by their clubs to the national regatta this year for it is to win a national championship that all the crews and scullers row not only this year, but year after year. The Philadelphia regatta will include races for single scullers, double scullers, four-oared gigs, eight-oared gigs, and four-oared gigs.

There will also be races for double scullers, four-oared gigs, eight-oared gigs, and four-oared gigs. We do not solve it by turning out a mass away from it from advancing or allowing it to stay in place. It is no use to say: "We will cross the bridge when we come to it." We must take the bridge as it is. We think. To argue that we invite war by having our young men trained is hardly logical. We do not invite war by having our young men aboard our automobiles; nor fire by having extinguishers; nor the end of life by being insured; nor drowning by having life preservers. And these precautions do prepare us.
The question is ahead of us and we cannot dodge it. We must face
it. We must face the possibility of being drafted for military service.
As inefficient and unable to take care of themselves as they are, our

Ain't Us Autoists Naughty?

LOS ANGELES, July 2.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Every autoist owes a debt of gratitude to Judge Willis for sentencing those auto thieves to a punishment adequate to the crimes they committed—the more leniency the more thieves. A man cannot safely leave his auto on the street, day or night. This great band of auto thieves took everything in sight—presto tanks, overcoats, lap robes and tail lights. It seems there are more thieves among autoists than any other class of people. Possibly one reason is so many people are driving autos who cannot afford it and they have to steal to keep going; their name is legion. If an auto happens to get stalled at night on the highway, so numerous are these thieves that it will be stripped before morning; they infest public and private garages and alleys and byways and loot everything in sight.

The Hohenzollern in Mexico.

LOS ANGELES, June 27.—[The Editor of The Times:] It seems as though the Teuton plot was about to succeed, and the United States to be entrapped and driven by the hidden hand of Germany into a bloody, tedious and ruinously expensive war with an equally duped and reluctant Mexico, in order to serve the purposes of the military despotism at Berlin.

Then (according to the calculations of the Kaiser's government,) the exportation of munitions of war from this country to the allies would be checked, or cease altogether; submarine attacks upon merchant and passenger ships could be resumed.

humanity, and American airmen and volunteers, who are now fighting in the ranks of the allies against the Germans to avenge the Americans, women and children who were murdered when a German submarine sank the Lusitania would return to the United States. Thus America would be used as the tool of Germany, and the lives of tens of thousands of brave American soldiers men and boys—would be sacrificed in order that their blood might cement the crumbling foundations of the already tottering thrones of the Hohenzollern and the Hapsburg.

Your obedient servant,
B. SHADWELL.

For the Children.

LOS ANGELES, June 28.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I am not a prude nor do I pose as a modern crusader, but I believe I speak the sentiments of many solicitous mothers in saying I wish the photoplay houses could sometimes warrant us a perfectly harmless performance or programme where we would feel absolutely positive that our children would see nothing which would contaminate their little undeveloped minds.

When we take our children to a programme of which we have some knowledge of what we shall see, then we take the responsibility upon ourselves! There is a play on the boards this week and the one who interprets it is a household word; and I can imagine any boy would feel grievously neglected were he not allowed to witness his funny antics.

I feel positive that I am one of hundreds of mothers who took their children prepared to give them their fill of fun, like the circus, and all harmless pleasures, but I am confident that the remainder of the programme was obnoxious to the careful mother, as I try to be. I counted seven children, all under the age of 12, sitting within my vicinity, and I am confident that they were there to view the one picture, as was my boy.

I suppose there can be an argument that if a mother does not wish her child to see the entire programme she does not need to remain, but I happened to be unfortunate and entered the theater in the middle of the other play. Can there be once in awhile a photoplay house who will make it a point to guarantee a performance where, instead of "children under such an age not allowed" we can see "child-dren of all ages welcome." It will then be only the parents who are to blame if their children's minds receive problems unfit for tender years.

Would have America Office

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

RIDGEHAMPTON (N. Y.)
4.—Charles E. Hughes, spe

at Hampton, today told a Fourth of July audience that what Americans need just now above all other things is an intelligent comprehension of the ideals of democracy. He asserted that the nation needs more than thrills in its patriotism, and that his dream of America was a country officered by its best men, motivated by no thought of self.

"We are not a rash people," said. "We are not filled with a spirit of militarism. We are not anxious to go to war."

inks that the spirit of service and sacrifice is lost and that we have not the old sentiment of self-respect. We do not understand the United States."

Mr. Hughes motored over from his summer home to review the village preparedness parade and had not time to address the crowd. At 11
